Dark-haired

It can be a comedy, a series a video clip what am I going to do name now.

There are three leading roles, there is that of dua lipa, there is the Chayanne and Mila Kunis. It is a musical with special participations of actors and actresses from renown.

The scene takes place in a ranch house with a large wheat field.

To begin, a carriage was seen entering with the coachman who is an actor with Dua Lipa and Mila Kunis while the camera is showing the entrance to the room is seen the workers with straw hats working in the wheat field while one of them, Chayanne, looks at each other with Dua Lipa as if starting a romance.

AND

Brad Pitt appears looking at Mila but she doesn't see him. It would be nice for Mila if her children were in the carriage as if they were her nephews.

And all this happens in a dusk and the night is approaching then Chayanne begins with a guitar to sing a song" with the reason of what serves music" " called brunette" while you see those who entered the carriage sit on benches in the shade then While I continue making this song, the Spanish language and the English language sung by Dua Lipa, who is choosing some outfits in a closet, then here comes the night and fireworks go off from the room, the workers take off their hats and they are all influential people in both the musical and acting fields, so many as much as possible and start that moment by singing dua lipa Meanwhile, the atmosphere is setting and everyone begins to dance in the room and enter the room. night you see Mila out dancing to Brad Pitt. And so we do the stars do the chorus while They dance one step and the entire song is played until it comes to an end, the lights turn on and they greet the audience. The reason rather is to make an institutional and lasting song that talks about the most sensitive issues of society and

How can we be united with music for that cause, both artists and the public. The adults, the children, the Latinos, the Americans, let's imagine when they take off their hats that sunset under the sun and you see the illuminated faces of people who are artificial and everything jumps to a splendor.

I know that there are many that it is a lot of work and that it must be paid well with the sales of the albums around the world for the success it will have.
